Purpose

This quint brewery required an audio system to provide background and foreground music to enhance visitor experience. They were very involved in the design process and had ideas of how the system should perform.

Challenges

The buildings structure with odd contours was a bit of a challenge and TOA's design team work closely with the brewery owner to ensure the sound quality was above expectation and the system control was easily accessible and straightforward to use.

Solution

After some discussion, TOA recommended The MA-725 matrix amplifier that allowed for multiple zone controls. The speakers that were chosen were the stylish PE-304 that hung gracefully from the high ceilings, while the FB-3862 subwoofers enhanced the low frequencies. For local control by staff, they chose the beautiful and versatile MW-41BT with audio Interface with USB and Bluetooth.

Feedback

The owner was very happy with the installation and the resulting audio sound. The ability to control the system so easily with the interface was an added feature they did not expect.
